WOBURN ABBEY & SAFARI PARK, Bedfordshire

Woburn Abbey is currently home to the 15th. Duke of Bedford but is open to visitors from March to September. Visitors can expect grandeur and extravagant decor throughout the house. The dining room boasts a ceiling painted by Cipriani in 1770 and a collection of paintings including Venetian views by Canaletto. There are various State rooms that are open to the public including the dining room and bedrooms. Royal visitors who have stayed in these rooms include Elizabeth I, Charles I, Queen Victoria and Prince Albert. Outside you can explore the 3,000 acre deer park where ten species of deer roam freely. Within the Woburn Abbey estate there is also a zoo, extensive Safari Park and Antique Centre. Refreshments are available at the Duchess' Tea Rooms in the Abbey grounds and at a variety of restaurants in the Safari Park.

THE CINEMA MUSEUM

London's Cinema Museum is a unique collection of artefacts, memorabilia and equipment (including 9.5mm !) that preserves the history and splendour of cinema from the 1890s to the present day. It is located south of the Thames, in the Victorian magnificence of the old Lambeth workhouse, with its historical connections to Charlie Chaplin, who briefly lived here, as a boy, with his impoverished mother. Our visit, which will last about three hours, will include a guided tour and a screening of some of the rare vintage films in the museum's collection. (Plus tea & biscuits !)
